

Degree in Architecture at Luav University of Venice, Italy. Head of Studies and Research Center of Association "Confcommercio Imprese per l'Italia of Treviso" (Italy). She was Secretary General of RETE from April 2017 to November 2019; she is still today Coordinator of RETE Advanced Nodes (since 2017, ad interim since 2020) and member of the RETE International Scientific Committee (since 2013). She is also a member of the editorial board of PORTUS, the online magazine of RETE, and member of the Editorial Board of PORTUSplus, the scientific journal of RETE (since 2013). She was scientific director of many international city-port conferences and workshop. Particular experience in the activation, development and management of strategic relations in the specific context of port cities and the port-city relationship with the aim of improving the collaboration and technical interaction between the local actors: institutions, policy-makers, stakeholders, associations, citizens.