

His professional history includes a continuous series of intellectual experiences in universities and academic institutions, in the field of urban planning and in the management of public policies. An expert in project development and management of port city regeneration initiatives, he has led major undertakings in urban port areas in cities in Argentina and Latin America. In 2018 at the Galerie d'Architecture and the Pavillon de l'Arsenal, in the city of Paris, he presented a compilation of theoretical texts and urban and architectural projects that expose the trajectory of OFICINA URBANA, his independent professional space. Current Vice-President of RETE. He is Director of the Biennial of Architecture of Buenos Aires and since 2015 he is Dean of the Faculty of Architecture and Design of the Universidad Argentina de la Empresa / UADE.